

NUTV SUMMER FILM SCHOOL

APPLICATION FORM & GUIDELINES

PROD. SEETHY SCISSORS TAKE
ROLL 1B SCENE 3
DIR: Brian Rutland
KEVIN MURPHY
SYNC MOS

Make your first short film with our help at the NUTV Summer Film School!

NUTV Summer Film School provides beginner filmmakers with a crash course in all the skills you need to bring a story to life on camera. Every Thursday, Friday and Saturday from May-August, 2019, Summer Film School students take workshops taught by local industry professionals and work together to create six short films. Summer Film School workshops offer students the chance to learn a variety of filmmaking skills, which they will later apply on their own sets, as well as on the other students' productions.

Students not only get to hone their skills by writing and directing their own film, they also rotate through the roles of Writer/Director, Producer, Camera, Sound, Assistant Director and Art Director on other students' sets. This teamwork builds a crew of young filmmakers that have an array of skills and can work together. Students will take part in the following advanced workshops taught by film industry professionals:

Screenwriting

Producing and Directing

Art Direction & Assistant Directing

Camera

Sound

Casting/Working with Actors

Editing

All Summer Film School films will be screened at the end of the summer in the NUTV Student Film Festival. This festival seeks to encourage young filmmakers from around Alberta by promoting their talent and highlighting Alberta's best student films. This includes the short films created by students during the NUTV Summer Film School program.

Registration Fees:

$500 for non-NUTV members

$350 for active NUTV members who have logged under 50 hours

$125 for NUTV active members who have logged over 50 hours

All fees must be paid 30 days upon acceptance via cheque/cash/PayPal*

Email completed application form and any questions you might have to ed@nutv.ca

About NUTV

New University Television is one of the oldest university television societies in Canada. In 1983, we started as a club on-campus and since then we have now grown into a full-fledged, non-profit organization, with a fully equipped studio. Almost entirely volunteer run, NUTV provides members with free hands-on media production training. Members then gain skills by working on various NUTV productions. With our content we aim to capture the hearts, minds, and imaginations of the students of the U of C.

Schedule

*NUTV Summer Film school takes place every Thurs-Sat at the NUTV Studio from 11-5.

Hourly time commitments will vary depending on production phase.

May

Write your short film script with hands-on training from experienced screenwriters.

Advanced training workshops: Writing, Producing, and Directing

June

Pre-production on your short film begins: Casting! Locations! Crew!

Advanced training workshops: Camera, Sound, Casting/Working with Actors

July

Production of all short films!

Advance training workshop: Art Direction and Assistant Directing

August

Post-production of all short films! Sound and Picture editing!

Advance training workshops: Editing

September

Finished films screen at NUTV Student Film Festival!

Guidelines

Please be detailed and concise in your application! NUTV Summer Film School only accepts SIX applicants per summer. All selected candidates will be expected to have strong teamwork skills and the ability to collaborate creatively and effectively with others, as all students will be switching roles on each other's projects. NUTV is a creative safe space so negative behavior will not be tolerated. All short films can only be a maximum of 6 minutes long. If accepted, you will be working against time constraints throughout the program, especially if you are working full-time, or have any academic course load over the spring/summer sessions. Think of Summer Film School as being registered in a challenging university course over the spring/summer months. Workshop times will be decided based on student's availability. Everyone will swap roles on each production. The six alternating roles are: Writer/Director, Producer, Camera, Sound, Assistant Director and Art Director.

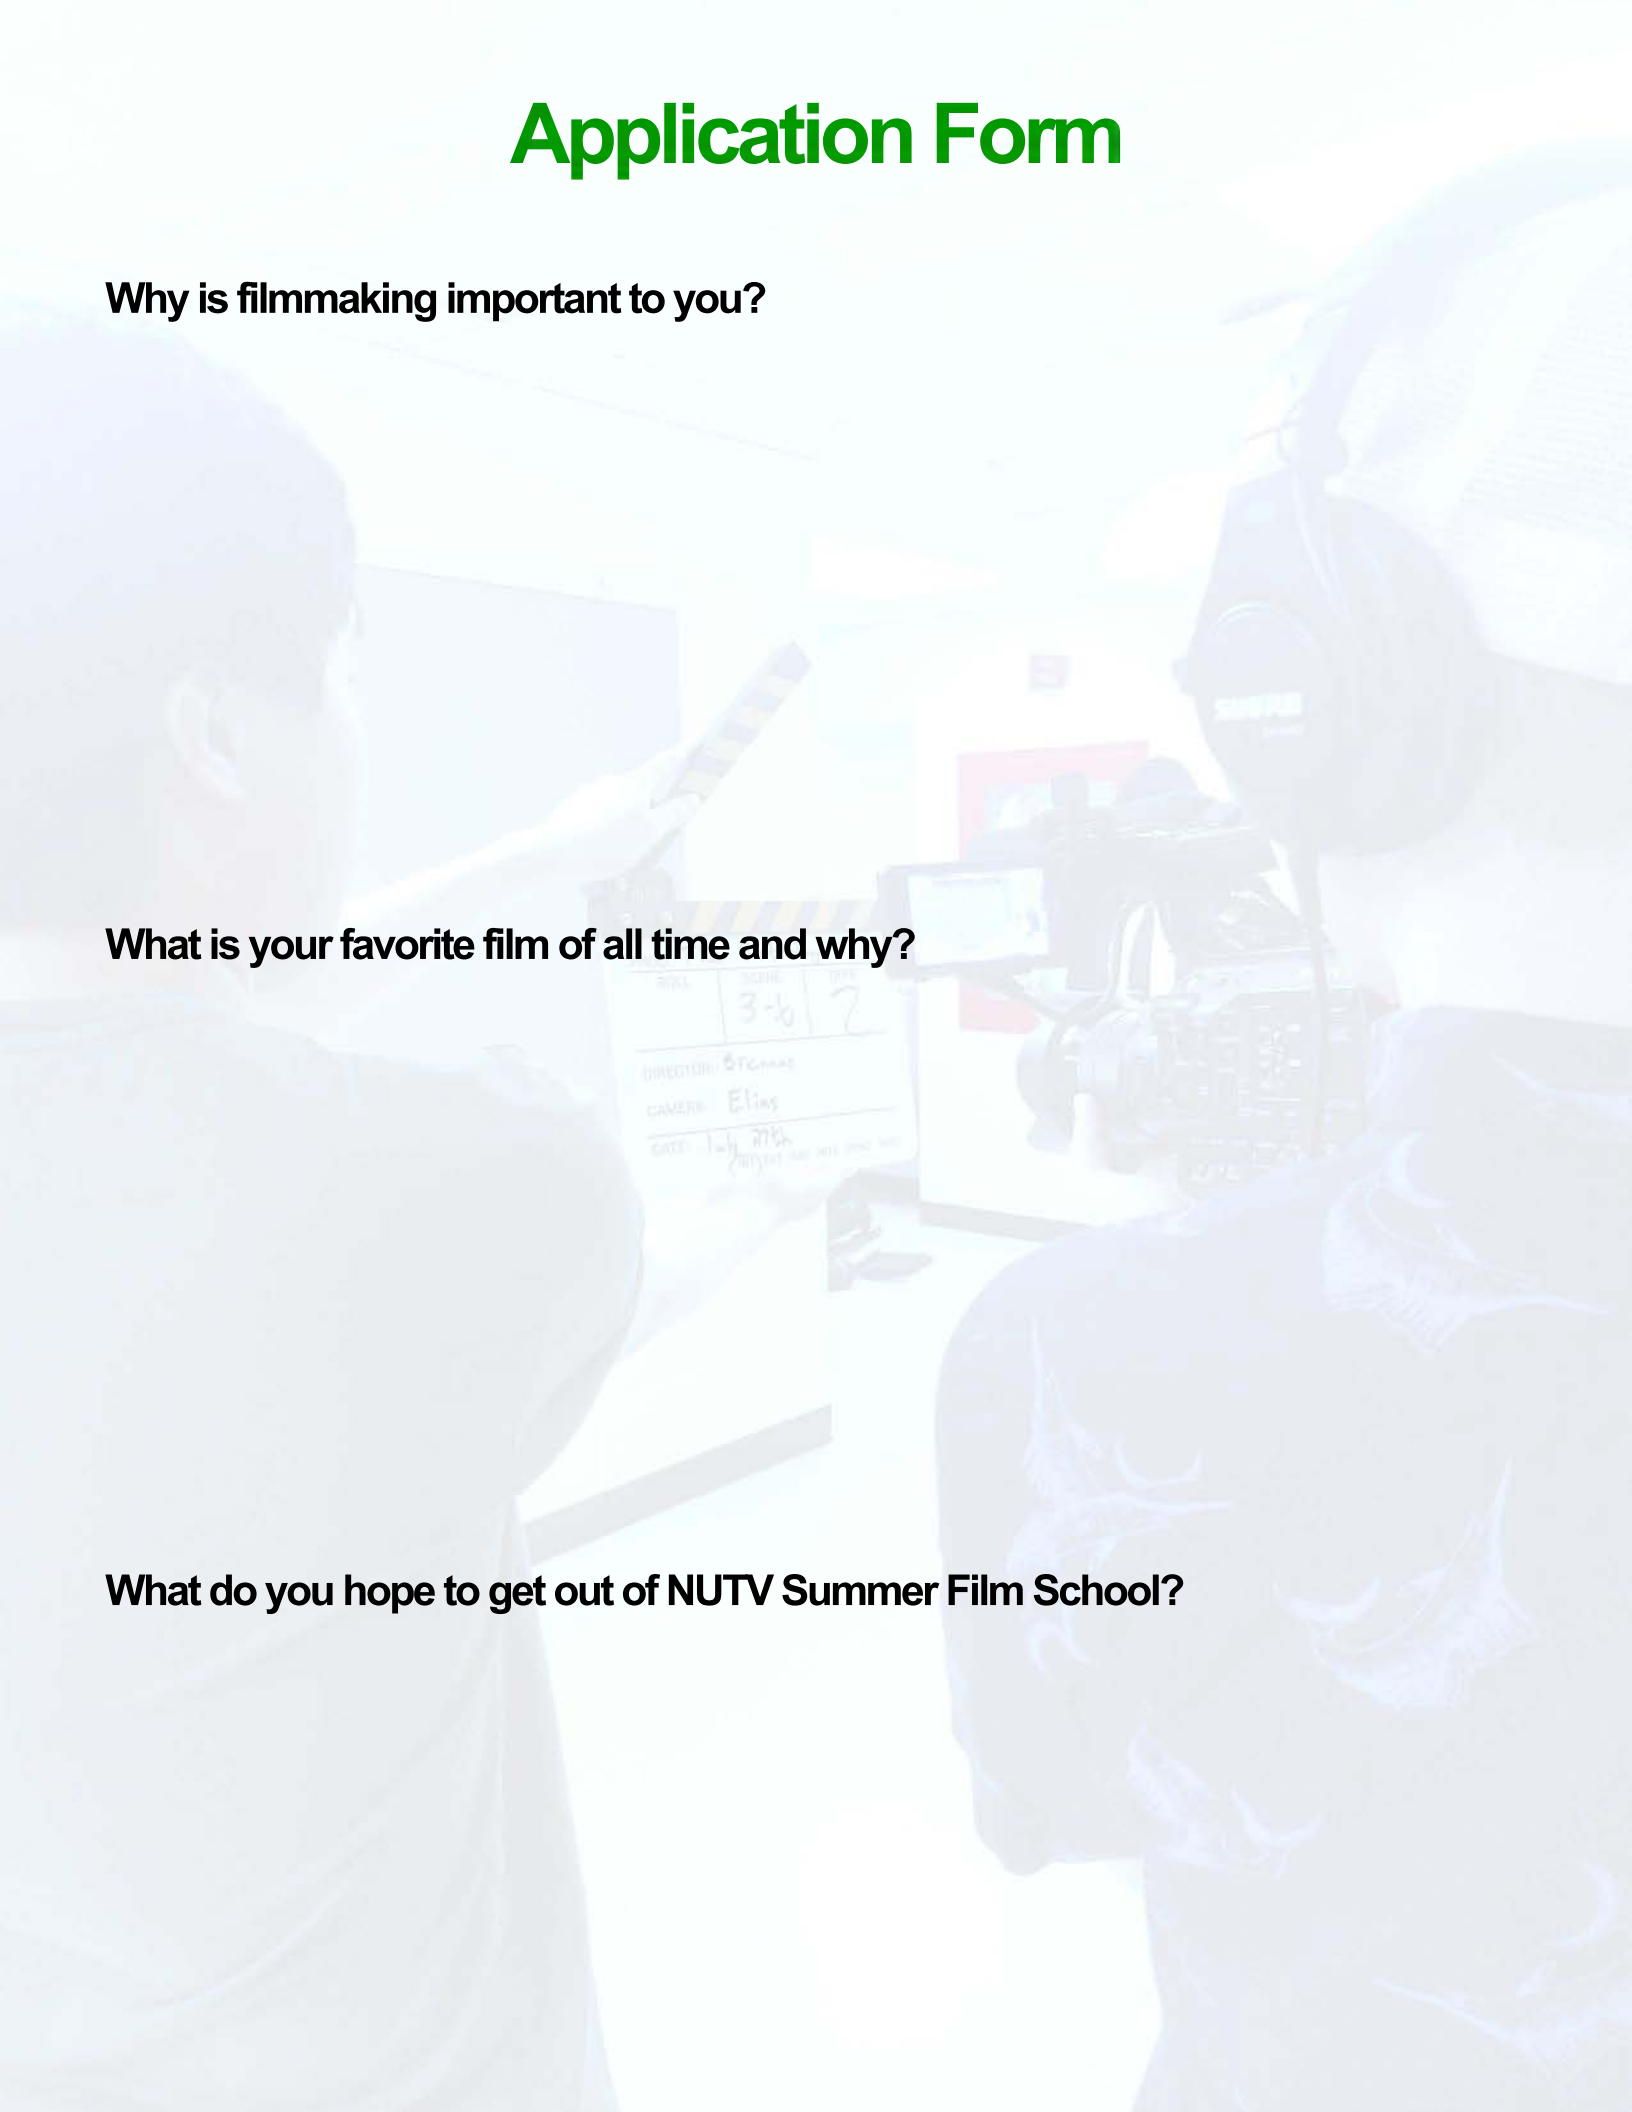

Email completed application form and any questions you might have to ed@nutv.ca

Application Form

Why is filmmaking important to you?

What is your favorite film of all time and why?

What do you hope to get out of NUTV Summer Film School?

Rules and Regulations

1. To the best of my knowledge, the information in this application is true.
2. I will take full responsibility for my conduct on any NUTV production while on the premises of NUTV, or outside, as noted in The New University Television Society by-laws.
3. All principle crew members must be NUTV members/volunteers or members of the Summer Film School
4. The members of the Summer Film School will report directly to the Program Director and the Executive Director
5. Final runtime of piece: maximum 6 minutes (with credits, no exceptions).
6. The Producer/Program Director reserves the right to halt the production if any NUTV policies are breached.
7. NUTV assumes full ownership copyright, including broadcast rights, and the right to first broadcast/premiere. NUTV head credit: "NUTV Presents" must be over picture at start of documentary. End credit: © NUTV 2019 w/ NUTV logo
8. The production must adhere to all NUTV policies and procedures.
9. All workshops must be completed in order for Summer Film School Students to work on projects
10. Equipment must be booked properly in the online system, and bookings must respect the priority of other NUTV programming.
11. All projects must be edited at NUTV, using NUTV edit suites.
12. All music used in the program must be royalty free or have written permission by the music artist, publisher, and any performers. This is the responsibility of the applicant, not NUTV.
13. The project will be completed before the end of September 11, 2019.
14. Film School participants must be available for workshops and productions every Thursday, Friday and Saturday from May-August, 2019
15. The applicant understands that participants for Film School will be selected on a competitive basis as per the contents of this application, the status of the applying member(s) and their contributions to NUTV.
16. NUTV reserves the right to cancel the program if there are not enough suitable applicants

I understand the guidelines, time commitment and have read the rules & regulations:

Signature:

Applicant name:

Application Email Address: